

Useful Geography Website Links:

Support for Parents: Understanding Primary Geography:

This website link to Oxford Owl has a breakdown for parents/carers of what children learn in each year group of the primary geography curriculum. There is also an important sub-heading on 'how can I support my child with geography?' that you may find useful.

<https://www.oxfordowl.co.uk/for-home/school-year/subject-guides/geography-at-primary-school/>

EYFS (Nursery and Reception):

The CBBC website is a brilliant resource for children in the EYFS to explore a variety of activities to do at home and games in the curriculum area 'Understanding the World'.

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/cbeebies/grownups/understanding-the-world>

Cbeebies have a cartoon show called 'Go Jetters' who are superheroes that travel around the world and seek adventures. The show explores countries and famous landmarks. This website link will take you to the shows and interactive games.

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/cbeebies/shows/go-jetters>

Key Stage 1 and 2:

BBC Bitesize is an excellent website for lessons, learning resources, games and for children to revise the geography curriculum. Children can travel with Barnaby Bear, develop geography skills, explore the natural world, look at people and places, explore fieldwork, sustainability and human geography.

KS1 (Year 1 and 2) - <https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/subjects/zcdqxnbn>

KS2 (Year 3, 4, 5 and 6) -

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/subjects/zbkw2hvr>

National Geographic Kids is a fantastic website for reading articles and taking part in activities that link to National Curriculum objectives. The website offers free PDF downloads.

<https://www.natgeokids.com/uk/teacher-category/geography/>

Every School is a website that offers free geography photos, videos, printable resources and interactive games.

<https://www.everyschool.co.uk/geography.html>

MapZone is a website that has been made for building on current mapping knowledge. It includes a lot of quizzes and games to consolidating learning.

<https://www.ordnancesurvey.co.uk/mapzone>